Important Health Warning About Playing Video Games

Photosensitive seizures

A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these “photosensitive epileptic seizures” while watching video games.

These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms—children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures. The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by taking the following precautions: Sit farther from the screen; use a smaller screen; play in a well-lit room; do not play when you are drowsy or fatigued.

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

Rucks

The ruck is formed when a player is tackled to the ground.

Press the A button to quickly bind your nearest available player to the ruck.

Pressing A consecutively adds more players to the ruck. Adding more players to the ruck risks your defensive line, so be careful not to over commit to the ruck in some situations.

Press B to bind players to the ruck aggressively, this will result in only forward players joining the ruck and making a heavy impact. However, if no forwards are already near the breakdown they may take too long to arrive.

After winning the ruck contest players can press Y to perform a box kick from the ruck.

The lineout is formed when the ball is in touch.

The throw in.

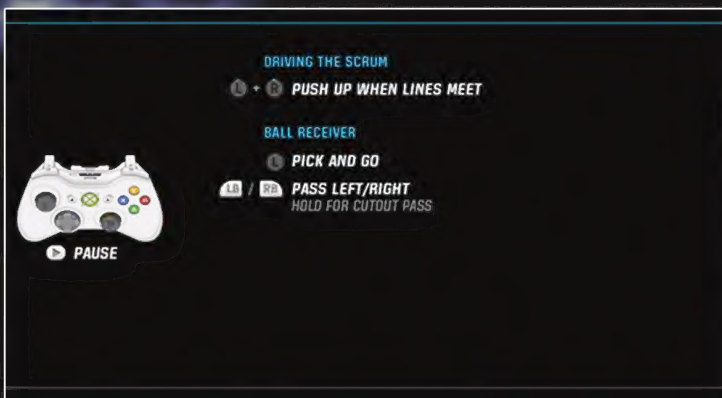

- o Use the Right Stick to change between pods of players.
- o Use the left stick to move the pods up and down the lineout.
- o Press either the Y, B or A button to throw to the indicated player when the indicator bar is in the coloured area.
- o Throwing on either side of the coloured area will result in an illegal throw.

The Catch.

- o Press either the Y, B or A button to jump and contest the throw.
- o Players can choose to either catch the ball, pass it or tap it back.

CONTROLLING THE GAME

Scrum

The scrum can form after a penalty, a knock-on or when the ball is dead in goal.

- o Players must press both sticks up at the optimal time to engage with as much impact as possible.
- o Once the scrum has engaged, it then becomes a timing contest to press the sticks up when the lines meet at the middle of the coloured area.

The further the timing lines are from this middle point when a push is made, the weaker the resulting push.

RELEASING THE BALL

⬆ USE BALL (OFFENSE ONLY)

The maul is formed when the ball carrier is in a contested tackle but does not go to ground and both tackler and tacklee stay on their feet.

The players are now in a maul and by repeatedly tapping X they will try to gain ground by driving the opposition. Other team members from either side are allowed to bind to the maul and drive the players forward.

If the ball carrier is forced backward and takes too long to use the ball, they run a risk of being penalised.

Place Kick

The place kick is taken after a try is scored and can also be chosen when a team is awarded a penalty kick.

Use up or down on the ⬆ to place the ball on the field within the player's kick stat range. The ball will turn yellow or red depending on how far from their optimal kicking range it has been placed.

Once the ball is placed, use left or right on the ⬆ to adjust your aim, Press A to confirm your aim.

A circle will appear around the ball once it is placed, the coloured area represents the optimal accuracy. Stop the moving white bar in this area by pressing A to take the kick.

HINTS AND TIPS

General.

- o Effective tackling, dummy passing, fending and sidestepping rely on player position and timing. Make sure you come in at the right time on the right angle to succeed.
- o Keep an eye on your Player Indicator, when it's pulsing your team is dominant, the pulsing goes to your Tackle, Break Tackle, Passing, Onload and General Kicking stats.
- o If your Player Indicator begins to fade, that means your players are fatigued and need to rest, try to keep them out of the Ruck, stop sprinting or even sub them out.
- o Complete all the tutorials; it's a great way to learn to play the game and an easy way to earn Rugby Dollars.
- o Go Online and play with your friends, you earn Rugby Dollars for every game you play.
- o Don't quit online games, even if you're losing. You're still awarded Rugby Dollars even if you lose, quit mid match and you lose $1,000 Rugby Dollars. Don't worry if you're disconnected, you won't lose any Money.
- o Try a chip, grubber or short puntkick; it's a great way to get past the defence when under pressure. Timing is important here – too late and you will be tackled, too early and the defender will get to the ball before you.
- o These kicks are more effective when your players are faster than the opposition.
- o If it's raining the ball is harder to hold onto in dominant tackles and long passes.

Rucks

- o The ruck bar will initially favour the player who had the most impact in the tackle. Run or tackle with purpose/aggression to tip this in your favour and increase your chance of winning the ruck.
- o Use heavy add when you have players close to the tackle. They'll still get there quickly and have an impact on the ruck bar.

- o Heavy adds fatigue players faster.
- o Use normal add when you have players further away from the tackle. They'll get to the ruck quicker and give you a chance of winning.
- o Committing many players to the ruck may increase your chances of winning but can leave big holes in your defence or leave you short of players in attack.
- o The first 3 players to the ruck have more influence, their speed and impact on the ruck is the dominant factor in winning rucks. If you can't get your players in there before the opposition, it often pays to wait for the next ruck.

Tackling

- o Be careful when using Aggressive Tackle, the tackle may be more dominant but risks causing an infringement such as High Tackle or Injury to another player.
- o Sometimes it's best not to tackle a player who has made a break immediately especially if they have a 2 on 1 situation. Hang off the player until your defence comes across to cover their players.
- o You can take over another player's tackle if it is not successful. Getting to know which tackles you can do this on will help you wrap defenders up earlier.

Passing

- o Get used to skip passing, it's a great way to find a player in space.
- o There are 2 ways to skip pass, try them both and use the one you're most comfortable with.
- o Draw and pass – timing your passes just before you enter a tackle commits a defender to the tackle and can free up space for your players.
- o Passes can be "prewound" before you receive the ball. Hitting pass before you receive it will pass the ball on quickly to the next player. Prewinding work for kicks, sidesteps and fends also.
- o Offloading a pass out of a tackle is a risky option but can bring great reward. Players with high offload ability will offload more accurately and successfully so be cautious when you offload.

- o Some basic actions can be performed simultaneously. For instance you can hold a defender at bay with a fend and offload with the other arm. It's a great way to create open space for your team.
- o When passing from a Ruck, be mindful of your support players position, if they're not in position to move onto the ball, it may go to ground. You can delay your pass from the ruck if your team mates aren't in position.

Scrum

- o Scrum pushes register when the sticks are fully up. If you're too late on the push, try pushing earlier so that your sticks are fully up when the scrum bar hits the sweet spot.
- o Try turning the scrum to your advantage using only 1 of the analogue sticks. Turning the scrum can move defenders in the scrum away from you and open up gaps to run through.
- o Attacking scrums in the middle of the field are great scoring opportunities when you have this option from a penalty.

Lineouts

- o The most important part of a lineout is the throw. Try to throw slightly down your side to get the best advantage. Be careful not to throw too far down your side or you will get penalized.
- o Slapdowns are faster options but can sometimes go to ground.
- o Move jumping pods ahead of your opposition to increase your chance of winning the lineout.

Changing Player.

- o When using change best player, move the stick in the direction you want your intended player to move, to help pick the best player.
- o Change to your fullback when you've been compromised. Fullbacks are usually some of the stronger defenders and are more likely to make telling tackles.

Mauls.

- o If you're losing ground in a Maul, use the ball earlier to prevent the opposition from winning the maul.
